2CRSi awarded new contract by oil & gas customer for energy-efficient HPC servers

Strasbourg (France), July 6, 2021 - 2CRSi (ISIN: FR0013341781), a designer and manufacturer of high-performance, energy-efficient IT server solutions, announces that it has received a new contract from a historical customer in the oil & gas sector.

The customer is a global geoscience technology leader, whose proprietary advanced technology requires significant compute power. As the customer's teams have always put power efficiency and TCO (total cost of ownership) high on their list of requirements, they have been sensitive to 2CRSi's innovative and energy-efficient solutions for several years.

The contract is for delivery of new compute nodes in the client's datacenter in the UK. The 196 multi-node OCP servers, based on high-frequency Intel® Xeon® processors, will be delivered in 2CRSi's latest generation of air-cooled OCtoPus racks, which offer industry-leading density, power efficiency and TCO. 2CRSi worked closely with its customer to increase the number of cores per rack (now exceeding 1,000 high-frequency Xeon® cores), while maintaining all other key metrics such as memory bandwidth and cost optimization. 2CRSi's OCP air-cooled racks typically allow 23% energy savings compared to traditional 19-inch server racks.

Despite ongoing component shortages, 2CRSi is able to deliver quickly as the servers are based on components initially ordered to build servers for customer Blade. Deployment of the new systems is therefore planned in the next few weeks.
